

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Another CSAC Annual Meeting is nearly upon us. For the past 117 years, California county officials have been coming together to learn, plan and shape policy. This past year has been a time of significant discussion about reform, and we expect this discussion and subsequent action to continue as we move forward. For county officials, the time to come together is more critical than ever.

The theme of this year's conference is "A Bridge to Reform." The concept of reform envelops California counties: corrections reform, health and human services reform, pension reform, fiscal reform... Our conference this week will focus on these issues, and others, over the next few days.

The work undertaken thus far is just the first step on the bridge to reform. It is vital for county officials to walk this bridge together as we move forward into a new era of local governance. It has been an honor this year to serve as your President, and I cannot thank you enough for the wonderful opportunity.

John Tavaglione
CSAC President
Riverside County Supervisor

Empowering Everyday People to Change the World

We live in a world with myriad problems which, for the most part, everyday people don't feel empowered to help solve. But as the internet fundamentally changes the ability of individuals to connect with one another, the question is how we can harness that power to empower people to change their communities. In this presentation Ben Rattray, founder of the world's fastest-growing social action platform, will discuss how Change.org is doing just that.

Redrawn! California’s Changing Political Landscape

Plaza Room A, Lobby Level

This year witnesses California’s first independent citizen redistricting commission. The boundaries they set, in tandem with Proposition 14’s new top two primary system, will change the politics of the state Legislature and California’s congressional delegation. This workshop will tap redistricting experts and political junkies to explore and expose the new maps and their likely effects.

Speakers:

- Paul Mitchell, Founder, Redistricting Partners

Changing What You Do With New Realities

Yosemite Room A, Ballroom Level

Following up on his earlier keynote, international speaker David Rabiner, will be presenting this breakout session. Understanding important qualities is one thing, but translating those qualities into specific behaviors is what personal and professional change is all about. If County leaders are going to create a culture that is equipped to deal with the new realities, they are going to have to demonstrate specific behaviors. The question is this: what are you going to start doing, stop doing, do more of, do less of, or do differently to change your culture? You’ll leave with a plan.

Changing County Culture: Performing With New Realities

Adapting to the bumps in the road is a challenge, but your County is experiencing changes that are not going away soon. Revenues continue to decline, and service demands are increasing, both in dramatic fashion. Many County employees are going to be retiring, and a new generation will be replacing them. Your electorate is connected and is talking. That’s a lot of change! The culture needs to change, and it starts with you.

Talent Development and Succession Planning

Yosemite Room C, Ballroom Level

This interactive course will confront the “retirement wave” of baby-boomers leaving local government and explore strategies and best practices to create effective leadership development and succession planning programs in county government. The course includes case examples, small group discussions as well as presentations. It concludes with the 10 best practices and lessons learned from leadership development and succession planning programs. Instructors are Dr. Frank Benest, former city manager of Palo Alto and a noted expert in succession planning, and Donna Vaillancourt, Human Resources Director for San Mateo County.

Nomination of CSAC Officers and Executive Committee Members

The Members of the Board of Directors will meet in Caucus on Wednesday afternoon from 4:30 pm – 5:30 pm to nominate candidates for the CSAC officer from that Caucus for the coming year. Nominees must be supervisors representing counties within that Caucus. Under the established rotation of officers, selection for 2011-12 must be as follows:

President: Suburban Caucus
 1st Vice President: Rural Caucus
 2nd Vice President: Urban Caucus

Following the nomination of the officers, each Caucus will also make nominations to the full Board of Directors for Executive Committee positions to be filled from that Caucus. Nominees must be members of the Board representing counties included within the Caucus. The members of a Caucus may nominate as many candidates for their Executive Committee positions as desired, but the Constitution limits each caucus to the following numbers of Executive Committee members who will be elected by the full Board of Directors:

Urban Caucus: 6
 Suburban Caucus: 3
 Rural Caucus: 2

In addition, each caucus may nominate one representative to serve as an alternate member on the Executive Committee.

A Caucus may nominate more than one candidate for a CSAC office and also nominate one or more of those candidates for a position on the Executive Committee. As the election of the CSAC officers will take place prior to the Board of Directors' election of Executive Committee members, the Caucus Chair at the meeting of the Board of Directors need only withdraw the name of that Executive Committee nominee who has been elected to a CSAC office.

Election of Officers - General Assembly and Establishment of Quorum: The General Assembly begins at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, November 29, 2011, and closes at the end of the luncheon program/election of officers on Thursday, December 1, 2011. Election of officers will require a quorum of one-third of the Association membership of 2011 supervisors attending the Annual Meeting.

Further Nominations from the Floor - During the Thursday luncheon program, the President will present the nominations for CSAC officers from the Director members of each Caucus and then call for further nominations from the floor. Any member of the Association may place an additional name in nomination for any office, provided that the person nominated is from the Caucus to be represented in that office for the year.

Statements By or In Support of Nominees - After closing nominations, the President will allow nominees the opportunity to address the general membership concerning their candidacies. Statements from the floor in support of a candidate will also be allowed, but the President may limit the number and length of such statements to meet overall time constraints.

Voting - Voting for uncontested offices may be by hand, voice vote, or by secret ballot, at the ruling of the President. Voting for contested offices must be by secret ballot. To vote by ballot, each member of the Association at the general session will sign the register located in the meeting room, receive and fill out a ballot, and deposit the ballot in the ballot box following nominations from the floor.

Election to Office Requires the Vote of a Majority - Of the members present and voting for the office. If no nominees received a majority vote, the two nominees who receive the greatest number of votes shall participate in a runoff.

Election of Executive Committee Members - The Board of Directors will meet Thursday, December 1, 2011, after the conclusion of the General Assembly, to elect the Executive Committee. The Board quorum requirement under the Constitution is 25 members.

Voting by Board of Directors - The President will place the nominees for each Caucus before the Board for election. Election to the Executive Committee will require a majority vote.

The Clerk - A Job With Many Hats

Yosemite Room B, Ballroom Level

Topic: Examining the “Actual” Work of the Clerk.

Are you feeling frustrated with the job of the Clerk of the Board because of the many duties, responsibilities, expectations, and tasks not related to the actual job you thought you were hired for? Here is an opportunity to take a look at why the job seems so overwhelming and why filing conflict of interest, processing assessment appeals and writing agendas and minutes are NOT all this involved. Together, we’ll look at the “actual” work of the Clerk and why so much of it seems to exceed the hours in the day, the days of the week or the weeks of the month. A better understanding of what the job is really comprised of and perhaps some suggestions on how some of this can be better absorbed in the day. Come and be prepared to share!
