

CSAC LEGISLATIVE CONFERENCE TO FEATURE VALUABLE WORKSHOPS

May 8, 2012

CSAC's upcoming Legislative Conference (Wednesday May 30 and Thursday May 31) will provide you with the latest information on, and explanation of, key issues that will have a significant impact on county budgets and programs for years to come. You will have an opportunity to participate in important dialogue, help shape key policy, and to listen, learn - and be heard.

Beyond hearing from our state elected leaders, including Governor Brown, the conference will feature the following workshops:

Crisis to Opportunity: Rethinking Health and Social Services in Your County

The system of health, mental health and social services in California is facing unprecedented challenges. Over the next two years, health care reform, realignment, budget cuts and federal waivers will directly impact these programs. As a member of the Board of Supervisors, or as a County Administrator or department head, you will have a unique opportunity to lead the way in creating a more integrated, less-costly system that can effectively meet local needs. This workshop kicks off a foundation-funded statewide effort to provide counties with the information, ideas and resources to successfully reshape the health and human services system.

The Fall and Rise of Redevelopment

The end of redevelopment agencies marks one of the most significant changes to local governance in many years. How this process is handled at both the local and state levels will determine the fate of local development and affordable housing for a generation. Legislators have introduced a number of bills that would alter the dissolution process or attempt to revive local economic development tools. Join us for a discussion of these issues.
